Fundraiser announcement for 2021
Unfortunate news regarding in-person events

Victoria BC- November 9, 2020

With the resurgence of COVID-19 once again placing restrictions on in-person gatherings, the Wild Sheep Society of BC and its Board of Directors are looking towards events scheduled for the New Year. It is never easy to have to cancel or reschedule, nevertheless the situation surrounding the uncertainty of gatherings once again forces us to postpone our in-person fundraisers until the Provincial Health Officer allows our members to come together in person, safely.

“We are incredibly disappointed that we have to postpone our Northern Fundraiser and Kamloops Conventions once again.” said Past President Kyle Stelter. “The safety of our members is always paramount. However, we are excited to offer an alternative- a virtual event, which will be a first for us. There will be some amazing things coming, and we look forward to releasing more information in the future.” Stelter continued.

Our first ever ‘Wild Sheep Salute to Conservation’ will allow you to take part via your computer or hand-held device and give you the opportunity to interact and participate with our seminars, talks and auctions.

This is an incredibly difficult time for not only the Wild Sheep Society of B.C, but the entire conservation community and its families, friends, supporters, and donors. We will make the best of an unfortunate situation, and we humbly ask for your understanding and support, as you have so generously showed us over the last year.

We hope you will be well as we all continue to do our best to mitigate the damage of this virus, and we look forward to seeing you all in person as soon as we can.
